

The flame of forever

This parting meditation is to signify the eternity of memory.
In order to establish the parting of a loved one, time is needed to remember

Take a pure white candle, go outside to a nice peaceful place

Place the candle in the ground and sit for a while

Allow memories of your pet to come to the surface

Breathe deeply so as to feed your emotions

When you feel you have given enough time to their memory and are ready to say your last farewell, light the candle

The flame of the candle is to signify your pet's undying memory

The light is to guide them and yourself to peace

Time shared and love passed between many

Breathe deeply and release the pain

When the time has come — allow your breath to extinguish the flame

This is to give your blessing and understanding to your pet's departure

Everyone who travels with love, travels in peace
